2. Prologue

Once upon a time their lived 2 families who lets say were not to fond of each other. The families names were the Montagu's and the Capulets. Does it ring a bell? Well it should, if not mabe you know of the story about two star crossed lovers Romeo and Juliet. Ya anyways if you have heard that story then you know how the two families hated each other. Then how Romeo and Juliet fell in love bla bla bla.

Well at the vary end it says that the two families saw what their fighting resulted into witch was the death of both Romeo and Juliet. So they decided to make up because they both had to morn the death of their lovely children and that was that the end.

Well not quite...

They did make up but that did not last long. Soon after there 'agreement' one of the Nobel's from the Capulets family ended up murdered on the Montagu's side of the kingdom. Witch made the Capulets accuse the Montagu's of killing him. Before the Montagu's could deny this accusation the Capulets had already killed 10 of their people for payback. This caused the agreement to break and for more blood to be shedded causing the king to go to grate measures and put up a wall so to bring peace not that it ever came..

Now about a century later the wall still stands and nothing between the 2 families except their names has changed.

Instead of Capulet it is Yukihira.

And instead of Montague it is Hyuuga.

They still unfortunately kill each other but they switched to guns not swords.

And the parties are still extravagant but not so formal.

Then worst of all not that the parties are bad but anyways. Worst of all is that the children of these families both have too suffer because of their insolent parents just like Romeo and Juliet.

To fully understand what Mikan Yukihira and Natsume Hyuuga go through I will have to start at the beginning. The day before their meeting. The day before both Mikan and Natsume's lives changed for ever ...

Thanks for reading give me some feedback one what needs to be changed luv ya? ï¾Ÿï¾˜ï¾•

3. The Yukihiras

My name is Mikan Yukihira you probably know my family the Yukihira group ya they SUCK. I know I sound like a little kid complaining when I'm supposed to be a 16 year old... but I'm just being honest. I mean the only time that we act like a 'family' is when we are in public. We have to put on our fake smiles and talk in our happy tones like we are the most perfect people alive ...Wrong !...

That's not even the worst of it the worst is probably the rivalry that has been between my family and the Hyuuga family for like forever. I mean when will they grow up and stop their stupid competition , it has really gotten old for being on for about a ...CENTURY!

Anyway off topic as I was saying I'm Mikan Yukihira the first and only daughter to Izumi Yukihira and Yuka Yukihira , yepe. I'm sure anyone would jump at the chance to be the the next successor to the Yukihira group a multi billion organization. Well not me if I had a chance I would trade this fortune and fame for a regular life , no to mention my parents would never notice since I only see them when they need me for something.

"Mikan your parents are here to see you." "They wish not to be waited on." Yaya... I thought sarcastically before jumping from the bed and sliding my way across the floor to the door. There waiting patiently on the other side of the door were my two favorite maids Anna and Nonoko not to mention my close friends. They just looked at me up and down unapproving. I was wearing a black jersey and PJ bottoms with unicorns on them. What I like unicorns got a problem. My hair was also in a messy bun.

They quickly pulled me back in the room murdering something like " your mother will scold you for wearing this" " what did just wake up woman." Typical Anna and Nonoko and their nagging me , but it would have been embarrassing walking out like this.

I was sat down in my desk chair with Anna trying to pull and untangle my hair tie from my hair. It hurt like hell.

Nonoko on the other hand was looking through my messy closet trying to decide what I should wear. She decided on a pair of washed out jeans , a sweater, pink vans, and a scarf with other accessories she got from my jewellery box. She knows me perfectly.

Anna finally got the hair tie out of my knotted hair and started brushing it out.

I felt relieved when she was finally done. I swear she was trying to rip my head off with that brush.

Turned around to exam in my hair. It looked great thanks to Anna. I quickly grabbed the clothes that Nonoko set out for me and changed in my bathroom before looking in the mirror. I looked decent.

Before I could thank Anna and Nonoko for helping me I was being dragged down one of the flights of stairs by them.

You could say my house was big but that would be a understatement. Their are over 50 flights of stairs. More than 100 rooms . 7 floors maybe more. And over 150 staff members. The design made it look like my family where stuck in the 1800s. Their are more than 30 dinning areas. A huge ballroom wear my 17 birthday party was being held. Probably the only reason my parents want to see me.

We walked down the narrow hall till we reached my parents 'office' not that they use it.

I stepped into the room closing the door behind me knowing that Anna and Nonoko where not going to follow.

There they sat on two opposite sides of the walls in their experience desks. Why they shared the same room for a office was above me. There were plenty of rooms to make a second office for either my mom or dad to have. But like I said they never are in here unless they needed to talk to me.

I quietly sat down on one of the many couch's in the room. Noticing my presents my father looked up from his papers. My father is 40 year old man who looks like he is in his 20. Though some of his hairs are turning grey from stress he is still vary handsome I mean not for me because he is my dad but ya.

My mom following my father's movements looked up from her papers. She had her hair back in a tight bun. She always had a perfect beauty that I also inherited or so they say.

My father was the first to speak in his usual business tone.

" Mikan you already know that tomorrow night is your birthday and that a lot of important people will be their including Prince YÅ•ichi of Japan I-" Oh so that's why we're having this party I thought it was something like that I almost rolled my eyes before mom interrupted dad.

" Mikan me and your father want you on your best behavior and to look proper. So ..." She looked me up and down examining my outfit before spitting out " ... Don't wear that." She looked disgusted by my choice in clothing.

Father looked at me and spoke again" as I was saying I will have a tailor get you a gown for the party OK." You could obviously tell that he was still annoyed at how mom interrupted him.

I just nodded so to get the discussion over with so I could leave the awkward filled room.

I got up to leave but was stopped by what my mom said to me

" before you go... Hotaru wanted me to give you a message that she would be hear in a little bit. And that tomorrow for the party she would bring her boyfriend for you to meet."

That made my fake smile that was plastered on my face disappear and was replaced with a knew real one. I ran out off the room not caring to shut the door behind me.

I ran down the hall not watching wear I was going. You are probably wondering why so happy? Well you see Hotaru is my one and only bestfriend. Her family are the 2 in command of the Yukihira organization which is how we know each other . She always puts up a cold mask which is why in the business world she is known as the ice queen and is feared (she is actually a caring person) . While I'm known as the Yukihiras Sakura princess. Whatever.

While trying to get back to my room to grab my phone I accidentally ran into a soft wall and fell on my butt. Wait soft wall? I open my eyes to see what I ran into. Their standing 6,8" was my tutor Narumi sensei in one of his regular weird git ups. A ballerina today? Nice. I thought while observing my sensei.

He was wearing a ballerina tutu and a fake crown was placed on top of his blond wavy hair. If you looked closely at his face you could tell he had a tad bit of eyeliner on his Violet eyes.

"Now Mikan" he spoke while helping me up " what did I tell you about running in the halls ? ." He gave me a strict look.

" not to. " I spat out at him getting annoyed.

" that's my girl." He said while patting me on the head like a little kid.

I slapped his hand away. He just gave me a fake sad face.

I rolled my eyes at him before walking past my sensei. Though he does annoy me a lot I do love him I have always thought of him as a father figure since my father was never one.

I walked down the last flight of stairs before coming upon my room which was on the 5 floor 1 floor under my parents office.

I walked into my room closing the door before laying down on my bed. Grabbing my phone I sent a quick text to Hotaru asking what time she would be here. Soon after she texted back that she would be here at 5. 2 hr wait grate I thought sarcastically rolling around my bed.

A loud nock came from the other side of the door. I grumbled out a " come in" before putting my face in my pillow.

A clicking noise came walking in. I lifted my head up from the pillow to see who was there. Standing in a woman's suit was my cousin Sumire or Permy as I call her. Grate its the slut was all I could think. I sat up looking my cousin up and down.

Like I said she was wearing a womans suit. She had on at least 20 lbs of makeup (witch only made her more sluttier looking)

I gave her a annoyed glare before spitting out " what let you in? "

She glared daggers at my comment before quacking out " the gard. I'm only here to RSVP for your party." I narrowed my eyes are her like she was stupid , which she is " you know you could have just called mom and dad , rite." She was surprised by this but quickly covered it up bye saying " I know that I also came to see auntie and uncle, so ha." She smirked like she was the most smartest person alive. Stupid I thought.

She humphed like she new what I was thinking and did a 360 on her 3 inch stilettos before walking out. I almost laughed. Like I said she is a slut she will literally do anything that moves.

For example one time we were at the mall and I saw her eyeing this robot dog thing that was sitting in a store room. Well she was staring at it like she wanted to do the dirty deed with it, I literally almost barfed.

I looked at my phone to see how much time "it" took from me. I groaned still a hour to go till Hotaru gets here I thought tired from the long day I had been having. My eyes suddenly became heavy I fell back on my bed instantly asleep.

I woke up from yelling that was coming from the down stairs. I tiredly trudged my feet down to the first floor to see what the ruckus was. When I had made it down I saw my cousin Persona and mother fighting about something.

When they saw that I was standing there they stopped fighting and my mom went back to a presume to be the office again. I looked at my cousin confused. He sighed and walked away before I could ask what the problem was.

Presuming that meant don't ask I walked back to my room and checked what time it was. It was approximately 4: 57. So she should be here in about 3 minutes. I thought to my self.

3 min laterâ€¢â€¢â€¢â€¢â€¢â€¢â€¢â€¢

I heard a knock on the door before rushing to get it. By the time I got there she was already in and shuffling her bags around. I ran squiling to her but was hit in the head with my worst nightmare her baka gun. You see Hotaru is really good at making inventions most famously my least favorite one is the baka gun.

I cringed in pain at wear it hit my forehead. I grumbeled a " I missed you too!" Before fake crying. Instead of soothing me I was shot yet again by her baka gun. " so mean !" I growled at her she smiled a little before hugging me and in the smallest whisper she said " I missed you too... "

I laughed a little but overall I was so happy that she was back that my bestfriend was back...
